BUILT TODAY

Our characters talk now. Their mouths follow the voice, and all six can do it.

A practice store site with a product helper that answers only from the store's own catalog.

A one-page flyer whose scan code opens the estimate form. We scanned it to check.

THE RULE

The product helper never makes health claims. When a question is for a doctor or a vet, it says so.

HONEST LESSON

The talking character's invisible frame covered the buttons beside it, so clicks never landed. A test caught it, and the frame now lets clicks through.

WATCHING

Next for the characters: reading replies aloud as they arrive.

Written Friday morning from Thursday's records.
