BUILT TODAY

Our website now carries the incorporated name, At Petrichor Systems, Inc., with updated terms and an updated privacy notice.

A bigger name and logo at the top of the site on desktop, so it's easy to see.

THE RULE

A legal claim needs a document. Our reviewer held the word "incorporated" until the confirmation was in hand, and only then did it go live.

HONEST LESSON

A second set of eyes finds what you stop seeing. An outside review caught two small things on our own site: an old Daily link on the home page, and a help bubble that covers a button on phones. We checked, and both are real.

WATCHING

The next steps for the new company, in order: its tax ID, a business bank account, then payments.

Written Wednesday morning from Tuesday's records.
